

Hey Cupcake! is run by a husband and wife team, Jim and Becci, who established their small business in San Antonio, Texas.

Their company has remained between the two of them since the beginning of their business venture in 2018.

Hey Cupcake!'s featured product is their line of originally designed and hand-crafted greeting cards that suit many occasions. They strive to create greeting cards that deliver joy, laughter, hope, and comfort into their audience's homes. Their cards feature hand-lettered fonts and original watercolor illustrations.

An encouraging word is found inside every card, and a hidden cupcake is strategically placed in each illustration.

They also carry other goods, including stationery, invitations, gift wrapping, and calendars.

With the rapidly changing technological world, Jim and Becci want to see the tradition of handwritten messages continue to flourish in the years to come. Hey Cupcake! was founded upon the goal of connecting friends and families from miles apart. They deeply care about spreading positivity and fostering more profound connections.
